Antwerp 14. Sept. 66. OFFICE

A.B.

I am very sorry I am forced to trouble you so often.

But I have writ to them & shew to Mr. Hall.

Mr. P. We succeed that you weary of my and and more. for since I first superseded them from 1577 they have been three, returns in company to those that did a long time of them, but not can ward from him: that that very well, because I am very sorry to know his sentence of them & 1577 is to receive his Harth Conicments: he is still is not sensible to a day, but to all other sense of that kind: for 1577 is very cautious & there wants but a little more in toward merit then that have, were to make him the worse your desire of him: & a little matter with have & shall, but will suffice: Make him crea-dulous enough, but now he sees three returns

& no answer to them, is as well as before but, that either you have not received them or that you neglect the business: perfect

You & I have, answered: what I will is: for he will grow cold if you do not confer little of all that I had in hand to him because he served you as he ought: for I have received four letters from my mother & Mr. Thomas last week, & have not yet answered them

I will take it that that I sent that man to Mr. Heath. I very much wonder you should be so; as if, if I were not very well assured of his honesty & faith, that I would have sent him: you say he is a conspirator. Well now; if he be he is good enough to serve me in the nature of a servant. The sent money that was brought to me, was by a servant of Mr. Hull's. & I can search & criminate was not so great for me to send him to you. To do me the same office. I hope he is neither in Cheate nor Trowler; & I had none pictures except for Thomas that I could send; you & I self for. I could who I order'd to do me that office. (if I were to have any thing I should have to you. My Mother was not so stiff. being a woman; & possibly I should be loath to have her have it, for another reason & for Thomas. I did not know but you might see Me it, as much as any. Pictures he is full of in Towne: & I was sure that none of you would do it for fear of his picture; so I trust I tell me what was to do in such a case. Mr. Thomas is a very fine the few of letter I sent to you: & I say he is the by man in the world I could trust. His true for. He is so: except him self; & so he might have. I tell you too: but I find every one has a prejudice to do me if they can: but for my part, you may believe not your pleasure: you shall find still that how great a Child to ever from in other matters. I shall give it is evidently not I am now about: & I doubt not but a quill my self as he sends me, & as is my duty, so you will not let me want a little money for the gutter & I have already sent for to take me from this 15th changeable place. where I am at, ten pounds that sign a week. & might as well be for three or four of all manner of expence. they tell me, Sir that I. is a and that I have my play to make a fellow. that is quit myself from trouble to me. but yet I am confident in this, that let him be who ever he will be it is very honest in all his ways. & if he were, not I should run my greatest danger. He sides for I do protest to get he is as I am out of all my business as of a great Rogue never that. though he be never so honest. for I hope when you consider this Rightly you will not hold me to Culpe What now you do. Sir I am any of your own may have Conscience of my self I am content of this, let me want wth I encourage do. for I thought I have not pots ly feather too thin so much as I did let be expected get I am sure if you would give him in Courage out you should soon see the effects of it. for better for he has had nothing but true pure words for all things I have taken me a very private Lord and where I have not have my letters paid in to as Charles heaver, I only want money to do a way. I owe heave a house seven hundred gilders. the 1st of November upon Rings & Shirts I had to a Comodate me in going to & from. when I is paid I shall be gone. for where I am I can not com not hardly send wth safety. for heave loves all the Rogues out of Hell and a terrible laugh he ever against his May of England that would make an ill. in fine for I am very well valued in all parts, & a cannot you tell have money. & then for my father I shall trouble you less. I longer stay of mine I in crease my I care, & is to bid all ready that I from aska met to ask you for it. I do: pray for consider me; & let me know as much as you can; & that in force as you can.

 & mine all do not let any thing make you sure or I'll opinion of her that with do her all not to deserve. If you on, & you shall never sink I betray my self on you from of my folly. for those hapens I never sent. I sent in my mind as much as I can. I can search they would let goe more just that way then any other. But I gave them to her, & I do: who I can not. I can never, nor do I have any inquiry in it. so I cannot think that they are the just. Let me have as speedily as I can all as you would that I should prosper in what I do.

for your most faithful humble ser.
