that could the State, to their conference: as this ^{Scott} ~~Scott~~ ^{Scott} he wears a sword, he had no other word to use him self but he being the first that should carry it was so of State other wise himself & all the rest must have been forced alike. I know not for either this Corney be known to you or not: but he says he is wonder full of my play & by all of you: & it seems he has formerly heard ^{Scott} 159 speaks much of me: & when my Lord Hafford went to Brussels he told him that ^{Scott} 159 was to me & that if Corney made hast he might possibly find him: upon this ^{Scott} 159 Mr Corney came to Antwerp: & came like an impudent fellow as is I suppose I was: & after he had railed against ^{Scott} 159 & wounded his death a thousand times, thought in the Church he to come to see wth he could gett out of me: & seeing him self no wiser then he was before: after his usual Custom: he went behind my back & spoke many thing of ^{Scott} 159 & I as that he believed I would be chaspe ny if you should know in England that I held Corney pendence wth a Rogue & a thousand things more & Mr Nephew presented him, this prating fellow would I suppose all: in fine ^{Scott} 159 since he can not guess at my business, he has writ into Holland to every great man he knows & has given them an account of my being here & that Mr ^{Scott} 159 comes to me this is all ready told to ^{Scott} 159 who is forced to make it out the best he can. I am sure he will talk to you of it and a great part of his business he has to do for me: that I am very confident he will run all if he be trusted for you never heard on talker so in my life: & that he fore my bold & tell how my Lord Armin. wrote to him & my Lord Chan. & makes all the world believe he is the only man: & if for William Temple do trust and business to his hands: there shall not be a man in Holland but shall know it: ever body dreads him & none wills him: he is so in suffering a scandalous Lynd prating fellow: & I am sure they do not love his shag's interest that trust him wth the least of secret or pardon this long no reason, occasioned by a true desi re I have to serve you I request me to assure you that from speaking Cheek he got given to his son of me he will not call men all he has to do: but all others if have any in these parts: Mr Nephew dreads him: & am not able to meet him wth him: & though it may be to a great use you wth it: that for William Temple or from body that can: may give him a Cheek he was very like to be killed last weeke for his prating & saying that in Mr Hart up had fired men for service of the State: & he says he denyde it after it was sufficiently proved he was like to have run him thro ough: he was wth y^e fairest face in the world to see me every day: & there talks at such a rate of the courtiers & of his my glous. Leure: & of y^e Ladyes at court that I have hardly patience to hear such damnable and immodest I have much to let me hear from you for your truth that the others are not best handled me
